DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. The claims are objected to because they include reference characters which are not enclosed within parentheses.

Reference characters corresponding to elements recited in the detailed description of the drawings and used in conjunction with the recitation of the same element or group of elements in the claims should be enclosed within parentheses so as to avoid confusion with other numbers or characters which may appear in the claims. See MPEP § 608.01(m). It is suggested that Applicant amend the claims to either remove the reference characters or enclose them within parentheses.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is considered indefinite because it is unclear to the examiner what is exactly being claimed. It is unclear whether the felt (50) comprises both aromatic polyamide fibers or high-density polyethylene fibers and a shock absorbing member and a scrim or whether the felt comprises fibers and a scrim. Furthermore, it is unclear what the shock-absorbing member is comprised of. Is the shock absorbing member a film, another fabric layer, etc.?

Clarification/correction is required in order for the Examiner to perform a prior art search. The dependent claims are rejected as being dependent upon a rejected base claim.
